

Sand Renovation

2013

Some of the surfaces of a structure are worn by sand. Appliances lose their coating, counters are rough stone, wood floors smell like wood, and even knives or glasses are muted. It is important that no exterior is worn without its interior, no room is worn without its whole structure, no surface is partially worn. The process is successful when most reflections are gone and hard surfaces become soft.